DATELINE NBC

April 23, 1996

Mr. Timothy McVeigh
Federal Correctional Institution/Englewood
9595 West Quincy
Littleton, CO 80123

Dear Tim:

Thank you for allowing [redacted] and I to meet with you last Thursday. As [redacted] had said, you are very different than the person in the widely-used video we have all seen so many times. I can understand why you would want to remedy that initial impression.

I also appreciate that you let us bring in a cameraman to tape a portion of our meeting on such short notice. I will be sending a VHS copy of our story to [redacted] for both of you to see.

Although our time was limited, I hope that [redacted] and I were able to satisfactorily answer the majority of questions you may have regarding a one-on-one interview with [redacted] for NBC News/Dateline NBC.

I am sure that additional questions will arise. When they do, please forward them to [redacted] and I will answer as quickly as we can.

Thank you again for your time and patience.

Sincerely,

[redacted] for DATELINE, a NATIONAL BROADCASTING COMPANY (NBC) news program, was contacted and interviewed by telephone. After being advised of the identity of the interviewing Agent and the nature of the interview, [redacted] furnished the following information relating to [redacted] AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY:

The interviewing Agent advised [redacted] that the purpose of this interview was to determine what the results of DATELINE's investigative report into the AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY (ACS) were.

[redacted] advised that [redacted] report into ACS's spending practices within the administration. He advised that an individual named [redacted] [redacted], has been in contact with him and has discussed her dissatisfaction with the way ACS is spending donated monies.

[redacted] told [redacted] in an interview that the general public has a misconception of the way their donations are being utilized by the organization. The average citizen donating money to ACS is lead to believe that their funds will be used for patient services and cancer research, which [redacted] advised is not the case. [redacted] said that [redacted] has revealed that a large portion of ACS donations are used for administrative purposes such as lunches, travel, and employee gifts.

[redacted] advised that this use of funds by ACS administrators is not illegal but should be considered unethical. [redacted] said that [redacted] has revealed no sign of criminal activity within the organization.

The report that [redacted] has been placed in a low priority status, he advised. [redacted] said that the program was originally scheduled to be broadcast in the fall of 1994 but he is unsure if the ACS documentary will air this time. [redacted] stated that the head producers do not believe that the story has a high enough priority in the general public's opinion, since there are no criminal implications.
